AMiE is a membership subject association for all those involved within mathematics education, with a mission to foster lifelong skills, promote collaboration and make mathematics accessible, relevant, and engaging for all. We have integrated the unique skills, experience and expertise of the five long established mathematics subject associations* and are creating a new professional home for our mathematics education community.

Did You Know?

AMiE proudly represents over 3,500 members, and our regular e-news reaches more than 9,000 mathematics educators across the UK.

The AMiE Member Day is an opportunity for mathematics education professionals to connect, collaborate, and share ideas. This high-profile gathering will bring together school leaders, teachers, educators, and influencers who are shaping the future of mathematics education.
